

Englisch 12b- 4.und 5. Stunde

Dear students,

How are you? Are you happy not being forced to take the Pre-Exam in Biology today?

As we stopped introducing how to continue a story, I would like to ask you to do so by Tuesday.

1. Read the story “The Chatham School Affair” again.
2. Filter out all necessary information on the plot, setting, atmosphere, characterization, perspective, turning point, resolution of the conflict, ending (frame, flashback, foreshadowing). Take notes.
3. Continue the story writing about 250 words. (see assignment 5a) Count your words.
4. Hand in your continued stories on Tuesday.

I know that some of you will not like this task very much but maybe it will help you that this will be the first and the last time that your English teacher requires this kind of “terrible nonsense” . ..

Hopefully you will be creative authors. Good luck! Bye-bye. Birgit Renker
